

ABSTRACT

A method of monitoring multi-media communication between parties, wherein a user logs onto a primary safe room and upon authentication may enter additional branch rooms for various activities. Such monitoring allows for a child to safely explore the Internet and other related media with the assistance of an off-site buddy technician.

Approved for Release